

Handwritten Arabic text on two pages of an old manuscript. The pages contain dense script, likely discussing mathematical or philosophical concepts. The left page has a large, faint watermark in the background that reads "King S".