

Handwritten Arabic text in a dense, cursive script, likely a manuscript or a collection of letters. The text is arranged in vertical columns, with some lines starting with large decorative initials. The ink is dark, and the paper shows signs of age and wear.

