

Main text in Arabic script on the left page, containing philosophical or theological discussions with various annotations.

Main text in Arabic script on the right page, continuing the philosophical or theological discussions from the left page.

Vertical marginal notes on the right side of the right page, written in Arabic script.