

Handwritten Arabic text on the left page of an open manuscript, likely a historical or religious document.

A smaller, rectangular piece of handwritten Arabic text is placed over the center of the manuscript pages.

Handwritten Arabic text on the right page of an open manuscript, continuing the text from the left page.