

Handwritten Arabic text in two columns, likely a manuscript or commentary. The text is dense and includes various scriptural references and theological discussions. The right page contains a large, prominent word 'University' in the lower right corner, which is a watermark or a label added to the image.