

Handwritten text on the left page, featuring dense Arabic script with numerous marginal notes and corrections. Some words are written in red ink, likely indicating emphasis or specific terminology. The text appears to be a continuation of a treatise or a collection of related entries.

Handwritten text on the right page, continuing the dense Arabic script. It includes several prominent section headers in red ink, such as الغض (The Gland) and التامك (The Tamak), which likely denote different parts of the anatomical or physiological study being discussed. The right page also features extensive marginalia.
