

Handwritten text in Persian script, likely a manuscript or letter, covering both pages of the open book. The text is arranged in vertical columns and includes various phrases and names. A large, faint watermark is visible across the center of the pages, featuring a circular emblem with a crown and the text 'King's University'.