

Handwritten marginal notes in Arabic script, written in a smaller hand than the main text, located at the top and right edges of the page.

Main body of handwritten text in Arabic script on the right page, containing religious or philosophical content.

Main body of handwritten text in Arabic script on the left page, continuing the content from the right page.

Handwritten marginal notes in Arabic script on the left page, including a large vertical note on the left edge and smaller notes interspersed.