KITAB-AL-AGHZIA-TAL-MARAZI

The Manuscript named above is an attempt made in old days to cure the disease through routine and daily diets - the eatables in daily use. The author first gives description of the disease - symptoms and causes etc. then prescribes the remedy. A very interesting subject for modern research scholars. The style of writing is generally dated back as 15th century A.H. A top ranking calligraphic specimen of Nastaliq script, decorated with golden border line and on the left hand page it bears notice by some
