

Handwritten Persian text on two pages of an old manuscript. The text is written in a cursive style with some red ink used for emphasis or headings. The right page contains several lines of text, including a prominent heading that reads "هر چه بخواهد رخساره درین وقت" (Whatever the face wants in this time). Below it, there are lines like "مهر نوبت است و آراستند" (The time of the moon is for beautification) and "مستعاجاتین مستعاجاتین" (Urgent matters, urgent matters). The left page is filled with dense handwritten text, including phrases like "ندراستند و سینه فرقه در دسترون" (They do not know and the sect is in their hands) and "دگر در کله نشانند دگر صبا که نشانند" (They are again in the shell, again the morning breeze that shows). The manuscript shows signs of age, with yellowing of the paper and some ink bleed-through from the reverse side.
