

Handwritten Arabic text in a cursive script, likely a manuscript or a collection of letters. The text is densely packed and covers most of the page area. There are several lines of text that appear to be headings or section markers, such as "بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم" (In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful) and "الحمد لله رب العالمين" (Praise be to Allah, the Lord of the World). The text is written in a dark ink on aged, yellowish paper. The handwriting is fluid and characteristic of the Maghrebi or Andalusian style. There are some marginal notes and corrections throughout the document. The overall appearance is that of a well-used, historical document.
