

Handwritten Arabic text in two columns on aged paper. The text is dense and includes several red-inked headings and decorative elements. The right page features a circular library stamp from 'جامعة الملك سعود' (King Saud University) in blue ink. The text appears to be a scholarly or religious treatise, possibly related to astronomy or mathematics given the context of the university's collection.