

Handwritten text in Arabic script, likely a medical or scientific treatise. The text is densely packed and includes various headings and sub-sections, such as باب في... (Chapter on...). The content discusses various topics, possibly related to anatomy or physiology, as indicated by terms like "المنبر" (the arch) and "المنصف" (the center). The text is written in a cursive style typical of historical Arabic manuscripts.

Handwritten text at the top of the page, providing context for the diagrams below. It appears to be an introductory or explanatory passage.

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, providing further context or explanation for the diagrams. It includes phrases like "المنصف" and "المنبر".