

Handwritten text in Arabic script, densely packed with marginalia. The main text is written in a clear, consistent hand, while the margins are filled with smaller, more varied script, likely representing commentary or corrections. The page is numbered '10' in the top left corner.

Handwritten text in Arabic script, densely packed with marginalia. The main text is written in a clear, consistent hand, while the margins are filled with smaller, more varied script, likely representing commentary or corrections. The page is numbered '11' in the top left corner.