

Handwritten Arabic text in a medieval script, likely a manuscript on logic or philosophy. The text is densely packed and includes several section headers and numbered entries. Key headers include:

- باب الترتيب (Chapter on Order)
- باب الترتيب في الماهيات (Chapter on Order in Essences)
- باب الترتيب في الكميات (Chapter on Order in Quantities)
- باب الترتيب في الصفات (Chapter on Order in Attributes)
- باب الترتيب في الأفعال (Chapter on Order in Actions)

The text discusses various logical principles and their application in different contexts, often using examples and numbered points to illustrate concepts. The handwriting is in a cursive style characteristic of the Islamic Golden Age.