

Handwritten Arabic text in a dense, cursive script, likely a manuscript or treatise. The text is arranged in columns and includes various annotations and marginalia. The script is highly legible and fills most of the page area.

Copyrighting University