

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a medieval manuscript. The text is arranged in approximately 25 horizontal lines. Some words are written in red ink, serving as rubrics or initials. The parchment shows signs of age, including staining and some loss of material at the top and bottom edges.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, continuing from the previous page. It also consists of about 25 lines of text. Like the left page, it features red ink for certain words. The right page has a large, faint watermark or ghosting of text from the reverse side of the leaf, which is partially visible through the parchment.
